Dear Sir,

Re Tasmanian Planning Scheme – Entally Lodge, Hadspen

As new residents of Rutherglen Residential Club we are very concerned about the impact the proposed development at Entally Lodge will have on us and other residents particularly in McCulloch Drive which borders Entally Lodge.

We are concerned about lack of privacy ,considerable increase in noise as well as loss of habitat and food for the large number of birds and wildlife that abound here.

Is there any possibility that a “buffer zone” of the existing native shrub and trees be left in place. This would provide a sound barrier as well as a visual one and also provide refuge for the existing bird population.

We are concerned also in regard to the effect the increase in housing may have on the long term tourist interest in Entally and its surrounds.

Yours sincerely,

Rod and Joy Willey
